Directors Note

Bringing The Outsiders to the stage has been a journey of collaboration, growth, and discovery. This story resonates deeply with its themes of loyalty, identity, and the unyielding power of friendship amidst adversity. In directing this play, I wanted to emphasize the humanity of each character—reminding us that behind every conflict lies the shared desire for understanding and belonging.

I would like to thank all of our students and staff who gave their hearts and time for our show. A very special thank you to Owen Taylor, an incredibly gifted student who has given countless hours in building this masterpiece with me. I hope tonight's performance leaves you reflecting on the connections that unite us, regardless of the labels that seek to divide.

Stay gold, and always hold onto hope.

Ms. Jennifer Walker

(Drama Program Coordinator and Director)
